

Why a firm faith in God and prayers of the heart alone are not enough to bring man and his soul closer to the Kingdom of Heaven

According to the instruction of the universal spirit of love, a heavenly being now reveals himself to you, heart-open, God-bound people, through the welcoming herald, and welcomes you cordially.

The Heavenly Spirit of Love, caring for all creation, gave me a brief message to you men to inspire you to deep reflection. Through some of his statements, you would be able to honestly question yourselves, whether you are already on the heavenly path, or whether you still let the many worldly illusions keep you off, even though you already clearly feel from inside, in your soul, that you should do more for your heavenly homecoming.

Truly, even if a man's firm faith in God and the prayers of his heart make him strong to endure this merciless and unjust world, he still has no certainty that he is already on his way back to heaven. The certainty can only be sensed from within by a man who is making a serious daily effort to refine his unsightly traits and his contaminated consciousness more and more in order to maintain spiritual clarity and foresight. God only supports a willing person with powers through their bright soul that allow them to succeed in overcoming their selves. Only then does he feel more and more from within that he is on the right path to God in the Kingdom of Heaven. Such an inner person always feels safe in the divine light, because he is close to him, and will radiate inner peace and serenity.

The perceptible divine security and closeness helps him to gradually detach himself from the outer religious beliefs of this world and to receive from within a new, free and impersonal image of God and heavenly life. His far-sighted, luminous picture of the eternal heavenly-divine life of pure beings has no place for any religious organization and its doctrine, nor for people who believe that God enables them to lead others into the kingdom of heaven.

Although his inner picture of knowledge and experience is still restricted and imperfectly shapes his consciousness, it encourages him to become more and more independent of human opinions and the general view of the world in order to come closer to heavenly freedom.

This document is a free translation from the original German

The spiritually more mature man can then recognize quite well from his new, liberal picture what he should do step by step without haste to reach a higher spiritual state of consciousness. Their longing for the divine light and for a spiritually higher life has already grown so much that they want to use every precious free moment to first see through their own delusions and errors as well as those of the world.

Only such a spiritually stable, inner person can be far-sighted enough to classify and evaluate to what extent believers, the world religions, and their doctrines are truly removed from the free and independent life of the celestial beings of light.

Such a spiritualized person will feel it painfully in his heart when he meets people who discuss the allegedly true doctrine of God and who may still fanatically argue about their religious knowledge with different views. He will avoid them if possible, as such narrow-minded people repel him. Can you reasonably understand that in your consciousness?

You wanderers into the heavenly divine light have you ever asked yourselves more precisely where you stand spiritually and what else binds you to this world?

Are they perhaps religious statements, cults, traditional customs or admired personalities?

Truly they have nothing to do with the free, impersonal heavenly life of the pure beings of light!

Please check yourselves honestly how far you still live from the free consciousness of a spiritualized person and what still needs to be done to achieve this goal of inner and outer freedom. Only when you have free traits and a free way of life can you be attracted by the kingdom of Heaven!